

Quick Guide to JAF Services

JAF

Note: *The following description is based on the information as of 26 July 2006 unless specified otherwise.

*The final text of these information shall be the Japanese version of the latest JAF's website and JAF's service guide which will be used should any dispute arise as to their interpretation

As a public-service organization with a membership of about 17 million, JAF is dedicated to providing auto users services that enhance their safety and their sense of security, while aggressively promoting campaigns for road safety and smooth running of traffic, thereby contributing to the sound development of motorized society. JAF's activities are described in the following sections.

JAF's Activities

Road service

JAF's road service is constantly on stand-by to respond to emergency calls from auto users. The annual number of calls attended by JAF's road service reaches about 3 million, equivalent to one every 10.5 seconds. Supported by its road service network comprising some 250 directly-managed service bases and a number of designated contracted garages around the country, JAF's road service crew is ready 24 hours a day, 365 days a year to come to the rescue of vehicles including motorcycles in distress.

Campaign to promote traffic safety

In many parts of the country, JAF holds interactive training courses on safe driving including the Safety Training and Senior Drivers' School, and interactive courses which offer advice on the proper use of child restraints or how to conduct daily automobile checkups.

Measures to protect the environment

JAF launches the Eco-Drive Promotion Campaign, which encourages motorists to drive in a way that would minimize carbon dioxide emissions that contribute to global warming. Also, JAF is working to acquire the ISO14001 certification at all regional branches, the international standard for environmental management system.

Membership benefits and services

JAF offers its member's advice on cars as well as discounts and benefits on various charges, holds get-together events for members, and provides tips on automobile travel.

Motor sports

As the national motor sports authority in Japan, JAF has been working to promote and spread the popularity of motor sports in the country.

International operations

As a member of the Federation Internationale de l'Automobile (FIA), JAF participates in a reciprocal service program among FIA member automobile clubs to enable members to drive safely and comfortably outside Japan. JAF members are entitled to emergency road services and/or travel guidance on the road accorded to local automobile club members in more than 60 countries around the world.

1. JAF Road Service ~ On standby 24 hours a day for your vehicle security

JAF's road service is on standby 24 hours a day, 365 days a year to respond to breakdowns or accidents on the road (includes homes and parking lot) anywhere in Japan. JAF members can receive most of the road services — with the exception of some works — free of charge.

Just dial “0570-00-8139” or “#(pound key) 8139”, and we'll come to the rescue, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Individual, Family and Junior members are eligible for JAF's road service regardless of whether the member owns the vehicle or not. That means you're covered when you drive your own car, your friend's car, your company's car, rent-a-car or other vehicles subject to road service.

Under Corporate membership, anyone who belongs to the company registered with JAF is entitled to JAF's road service provided the vehicle number is printed on the membership card.

 All JAF members, regardless of the type of membership, must present their membership card at the road service site. Membership rates will not apply if they fail to show their membership card.

Road Services Available and Applicable Areas

JAF road service responds to troubles concerning vehicle functions or troubles that prevent driving, as shown below, which occur on the road, home garage, public parking lot, or similar places. There is no set limit as to how many times one can call and take advantage of JAF's road services.

1. Major troubles concerning vehicle's structural unit
 - (1) Flat battery and other battery-related problems
 - (2) Failure to start the engine and other engine-related problems
 - (3) Broken belt and other belt-related problems

- (4) Leakage of motor oil and other oil-related problems
- (5) Flat tire and other tire-related problems
- (6) Failure or malfunctioning of lights
- (7) Broken brake lever and other problems that occurred after a motorcycle's falling accident

2. Major troubles that prevent driving

- (1) Locking of the key inside the vehicle
- (2) Running out of gas

3. Services for major troubles following an accident or falling

- (1) Towing of vehicle involved in an accident, or transportation of such vehicle on a car-transporting vehicle
- (2) Pulling up vehicle from ditches or other locations outside the road

* In case temporary repairs cannot be applied or the vehicle in distress cannot be fixed to run on its own on the spot, JAF road service will tow the said vehicle or transport it on a car-transporting vehicle to the nearest car dealer, maintenance shop, parking lot, or other locations.

Type of vehicles subject to Road Service revised in April 2005

1. Passenger-carrying vehicles

- (1) Four-wheeled private passenger cars and commercial passenger cars (confined to owner-driver taxis) which weigh 3,000kg or less.
- (2) Private motorcycles (Including those with side cars) and motorized bicycles.

2. Cargo carrying vehicles

- (1) Four wheeled private cargo vehicles weigh 3,000kg or less with a load capacity of 2,000kg or less.
- (2) Four wheeled light cargo vehicle used for business run by the owner.

3. Special-purpose vehicles

- (1) Private special-purpose vehicles which weigh 3,000 kg or less with a load capacity of 2,000kg or less.
- (2) Four-wheeled light cargo special purpose vehicle used for business run by the owner.

Remarks regarding Road Service

1. Road Service does not cover vehicles weighing more than 3,000 kg including their cargo. And in case of a long-distance transfer or infringement of the law such as illegally remodeled vehicles, vehicles that have not passed the current car inspection (Sha-ken), vehicles not covered by compulsory automobile liability insurance, or drunken driving, the Service will not be provided.
2. The Service may not be provided for vehicles on which JAF's equipment and/or vehicles do not work effectively (for example, unlocking of specially constructed keys, serious accidents or fallen vehicles) or whose construction does not allow towing, or when there is no place nearby to tow the disabled car. Even in such cases, please contact our Road Service Call Center in the area so that we can assist you such as by introducing other service providers that can deal with the situation.
3. The Service may not be provided even for applicable vehicles in the event they are carrying loads such as valuable or hazardous goods, or perishable products that our Service might damage, degrade or endanger.
4. We cannot assist you on roads that are closed to traffic, seasonally closed or for construction work, where general vehicles are prohibited from passing, and in areas that the Minister in charge has designated as "no thoroughfare" for reasons of the nature and/or environmental conservation. The Service may also not be provided when it is extremely difficult for our vehicle to travel such as on icy or snowy roads, or in non-level areas, coastal areas or riversides, as well as in the event a natural disaster could threaten or make our work difficult.
5. In some isolated islands, the Road Service cannot be provided.
6. Flat tires may not be fixed at site. Please consult us when you call.
7. In case of breakdown or accident on a road, precautions such as placing a stop sign should be taken to avoid secondary accidents. Especially on expressways and motorways, the law requires drivers to place a stop sign behind their vehicles. After taking those precautions, please move to a safe place such as outside of the guardrail and wait for our service car to arrive.
8. If special expenses such as parking fees at parking lots or fees for a car ferry (both ways) arise, such expenses will be borne by the customer who requested the Service.
9. Some types of our work require the driver's license or car inspection certificate to be shown.
10. If the Service requested may affect the place or possessions of a third party, please contact those concerned for their approval.
11. Road Service operations on expressways and motorways inherently involve major risks. Your cooperation and understanding is appreciated as it may take some time for us to take proper safety precautions.

When you ask for emergency calls to us ...

Please confirm the following basic information ready before requesting;

- 1) Location of the disabled vehicle
(route from prominent building or landmark, place name, address, etc.)
- 2) Model and color of the vehicle
- 3) Vehicle registration number
- 4) Nature of trouble or request
- 5) Whether you have a JAF membership card or not, and membership number if you have one. Please note that members will be charged non-membership rates if they do not have their JAF membership card with them at the site of road service call.

Case 1: On ordinary roads...

Call “0570-00-8139” or the abbreviated number “# (pound key) 8139” to connect you to the nearest JAF road service center. If you can't get through to it, call the following number.

(as of 1 Jul. 2008)

HOKKAIDO Hokkaido Call Center (Sapporo) : 011 - 857 - 8139	CHUBU Chubu Call Center (Aichi) : 052 - 889 - 5300	SHIKOKU Shikoku Call Center (Kagawa) : 087 - 868 - 0111

Note: Before you call, make sure whether you need to press the area code or not, and dial the correct phone number.

Case 2: On expressway or motorway...

Call “0570-00-8139” or the abbreviated number “# (pound key) 8139” to connect you to the nearest JAF road service center. If you call from the mobile phone, PHS, or car phone, make sure the name of the expressway, the direction to which your vehicle is headed and marks on the kilo-post (a sign installed every 100m on both sides of the expressway that indicates the distance to either end of the expressway).

Or call from the roadside emergency phone. If you are a JAF member, make sure you ask for JAF when you call the road management companies on the phone because several providers in addition to JAF offer such services on the express way. If you call for a provider other than JAF, they will charge you for the services provided.

Case 3: For people with hearing difficulties...

Fax number for emergency assistance call (as of 1 Jul. 2008)

Note: Before you call, make sure whether you need to press the area code or not, and dial the correct fax number.

Show Your Card & Save® program

The Show Your Card & Save® (SYC&S®) program, an international network of affiliated clubs initiated by AAA (American Automobile Association), offers substantial savings for international visitors. When you travel abroad, make sure to take advantage of discount rates at hotels and other partners mainly in North America (excludes Guam and Saipan), Europe, Australia, and elsewhere.

How to Take Advantage of the SYC&S® Program

- If you have a JAF membership card with the SYC&S® logo (see left above), present it at partner locations in the country of visit to get discounts.
- If you have a JAF membership card that does not have the SYC&S® logo (JAF membership card with credit card functions etc), contact the nearest JAF counter to get the SYC&S® Discount Card (free of charge), and present the SYC&S® Discount Card along with JAF membership card at partner locations in the country of visit to get discounts.

Partner Facilities

You can search affiliated facilities in other countries on the following AAA website:

URL : <http://www.aaa.com/international.html>

Notes on the Use of SYC&S® Program

1. All partner facilities participating in the Show Your Card & Save® program have signed a basic agreement with automobile clubs in the country in question. Discount benefits to international automobile club members are provided in accordance with that agreement.
2. Due to the reason described above, JAF is unable to respond to inquiries or accept reservations on any of the partner facilities participating in the international SYC&S® program.
3. Advance booking is required at some of the partner facilities including hotels. When you call for reservation, please let the operator know that you would like to take advantage of the Show Your Card & Save® program.
* All services are subject to change without notice. Please check up on the latest information before usage.

AAA Maps and TourBook® guides

Maps and TourBook® guides(Travel Guides) for driving in United States published by AAA (American Automobile Association), which is affiliated with JAF, are available at member prices at JAF counters. You can also get a free copy from a local AAA club in U. S. by showing a valid JAF membership card.
